“ I just learned of Deborah's passing. I was one of her first students. She came to mind today as I was recalling her kindness to me during that time in my life. I decided to look her up to tell her after all of these years. I see I am too late. As a student I was going through a challenging time and in a big school such as UMass was, not many took notice of a young woman having difficulty. Deborah's kindness and compassion will never be forgotten and I am deeply sorry for her family's loss. Blessings on her memory.
