

Leon Stasinos

September 24, 1925 - August 3, 2012

SOUTH HADLEY-Leon Stasinos, 86, died August 3, 2012 in Holyoke, MA. Born in Holyoke on September 24, 1925 to the late George and Laura Stasinos, he attended Holyoke High School before proudly serving his country in the US Navy during WWII. Upon discharge from the Navy following the war, he attended Monson Academy and then worked for Moore Drop Forge as a die sinker. He retired from Easco Handtools in 1985. He enjoyed all sports, especially golf. In the days since retirement, Leon devoted his life to spending time with his grandchildren, whom he adored. Predeceased by his parents, brother, William and sister, Constantina (Karas), he is survived by his children: Gregory Stasinos (Leslie) of CO, Stuart Stasinos (Karen), Jordan Stasinos (Joyce) of Holyoke, MA and Laurel Renaud (Dennis) of VT. Affectionately known as "Grandpa Pinky", he also leaves the Stasinos grandchildren: Jason (his wife, Jennifer), Nicholas, Wyatt, Dustin, Alexander, Corey, Noah, Jesse, Ethan, Collin and one great-grandchild on the way. Leon is also survived by six nieces and a nephew. Memorial contributions may be made to the Soldiers' Home in Holyoke. New England Funeral & Cremation Center, LLC 25 Mill St., Springfield, MA has been entrusted with the arrangements. For full details visit www.nefcc.net

“ Dear Jordan and Joyce: We have such fond memories of Pinky and how much he enjoyed his grandchildren including his honorary granddaughter, Katie. We remember him bundling the boys and Katie into his car and driving off into some new adventure. Life was never dull with him.\n\n\nWith Love, Lyn, David and Katie

“ So sorry to hear this. Didn't find out until just now. Pinky was one of the great ones. Never saw a more devoted grandfather. I will miss seeing him driving by every day.\n\n\nLittle known fact....I would still be golfing right-handed if it wasn't for him. My father bought me right-handed clubs so he could beat me (my theory), but Pinky knew I was a true lefty like him and gave me some old clubs. My father never won after that. \n\n\nRest in Peace...you will be missed by all.
