November 6, 1951 - December 17, 2023

Maurice S. Lawlor III, 72, of Hampden, Massachusetts, passed away unexpectedly on December 17, 2023, with family by his side. He leaves behind his two sisters, Deborah (Richard) Papa and Elizabeth (William) Burke, his four nephews, Christopher (Lauren) King, Geoffrey King, Ryan Beauchamp, Timothy (Natasha) Beauchamp, his niece, Kaitlen Beauchamp, and his four grand-nephews and nieces.

Maurice, affectionately known as 'Skip' or 'Skipper' to family and "Mo" to friends, grew up in Vernon, Connecticut, where he graduated from Rockville High School and then attended UConn. Mo had a talent and love for cooking; for more than 40 years he was in the restaurant industry, either working the kitchen in various capacities including lead chef or tending bar. He was always a voracious reader, an avid sports fan, a lover of classic rock & roll music, and he took great delight when spending time with family and his many friends, both old and new.
